What is Lampworking?

Lampworking, also known as flameworking, is the ancient art of melting glass on a hot torch, wrapping it around a mandrel and shaping it into beads.

There are a myriad combinations of colours and types of glass that can be mixed with precious metal to create some truly stunning effects.

We have a selection of mandrel sizes so you can even make beads to fit Pandora or Troll bracelets.

About your workshop

When you book this introductory workshop on your own it will last for 3 hours and you will have the torch all to yourself.

If you book with a friend the workshop will be 4 hours and you will share torch time.

The workshop includes:

- Health & Safety demonstration of beadmaking
- All of the necessary protective equipment required to wear while at the torch
- All of the materials required to create your beads
- Tuition for a selection of bead styles and designs
- Kiln annealing of all beads made on the day
- Tea, coffee and biscuits throughout the day (we are a 5 star food hygiene rated catering venue too!)

What will I make?

This depends on the speed you work at, but most people will make between 5 – 7 beads.

Important

Please wear closed-toe shoes as you will be working in a glass studio. Also natural fibre clothing if possible.
